Dear Mr. O'Neill

In July 2006 we started the process of retrofitting our laundry located in Honolulu, HI. The final decision on the consulting was between two consulting / engineering companies that are leaders in the laundry industry. We chose American Laundry Systems because of their ability to offer us a seamless transition from the early design stages to the actual installation. We felt it was important to use a company that has their own employees / pipefitters & welders rather than a company that has no skilled workers and outsources these services.

Clean Living / Dust-Tex is a hospitality food and beverage company located on the island of Oahu. Our plant is processing linens 12-14 hours per day, 7 days per week, and 365 days per year. Obviously having a company that understands laundry was imperative to the success of our project.

American Laundry Systems worked with us to design a retrofit to be completed in stages to fit our financial needs. After design, request for pricing, and a week walking the Clean Show with American Laundry Systems we were ready to place orders for equipment. It was decided that phase 1 would focus on the utility consumption. A new process water system, waste water heat recovery system, and two new boilers were decided upon.

The work on the power plant started and we didn't miss an hour of production. The newly designed power plant has already reduced our natural gas consumption by 40%. We believe that the final numbers with our next billing will be closer to 50% with all systems operational.

The up front attention to details by American Laundry Systems helped us to have a better understanding of how these systems would operate. And for us to better prepare our staff for these changes. American Laundry Systems handled every detail related to this project. Our involvement was just to make sure everyone was paid on time.

As we look forward to late 2008 early 2009 we know American Laundry Systems will do whatever it takes to make us successful. As Charles stated to me the success of American Laundry Systems can only be measured by the success of our customers. I look forward to working with them on phase 2 of the proposed retrofit.
